Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

At every election in which initiative measures are to appear on the ballot, the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco makes a study of them. The proposed enactments are assigned to sections of the club which hear arguments for and against. The sections then report their findings to the club and the club of some eight or nine hundred members votes for, or against the proposals.

There are, so far as this writer knows, no restrictions on the club's membership save those of character, imposed. Doctors, bankers, wholegineers, merchants, bankers, wholesalers, labor leaders, civic leaders, industrialists, farm organization officials, in short men from every walk of life belong to it. In the main the only common denominator of this club might be called a common ability to think and a desire for the truth with a view to applying the truth to the affairs of the commonwealth. In this it serves a high purpose.

Usually we have made recommendations respecting ballot measures to our readers. On this occasion, however, we are substituting the recommendations of the Commonwealth club after a consideration of each proposal. For those who have not time to make a study of the 25 proposed measures on the ballot, we recommend the Commonwealth's yeas and nays. They follow:

WASHINGTON ROAD IMPROVED

Supervisor Cary S. Arbogast of this district, and Jay Coughlan of the North Columbia section, have had four men employed on the Washington road for several days. The old road to Washington was rocked for the winter travel and it is understood some work has been done on the new road. A power shovel was taken out on the road to widen narrow places and some rock was hauled to the new road.

J. M. Hoff, operating the Washington Giant King mine about half way down the new road, will be able to continue trucking ore to the Gracey mine mill southeast of Nevada City.

All work has been stopped on the Washington road and crews have been sent to the new road being opened to Scotts Flat where the Nevada Irrigation District plans to employ 204 men in construction of a new dam as soon as funds are allotted by the WPA.

COMMONWEALTH VOTES "NO" ON SINGLE TAX

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—By a vote of 693 to 66, the Commonwealth Club of California has recommended against adoption of Proposition 20, the land value tax amendment on the November ballot.

Hearings to both proponents and opponents were given by the club's Section on Governmental Finance and by the club itself at a special dinner meeting. A printed statement of the arguments pro and con was mailed to all club members before the ballot.

Pointing out that Proposition 20 would repeal "the retail sales and use tax, the automobile 'in lieu' tax, and the private car tax," with an "estimated annual yield" of "upwards of $100,000,000" the club's report also stated that the state property tax limitation would be repealed.

"Assured Revenue Given Up"

The report continues, in part:

"This assuered revenue would be given up, its place to be taken by a comparatively untried revenue source whose yield is highly problematical. Such a change constitutes a definite threat to the continued performance of essential governmental services.

"Furthermore, the yield of the tax on land values would be inelastic and irresponsive to the changing revenue needs of government.

"The proposal will result in confiscating land and making it common property.

Land Tax Increase

"Looking to the ultimate effect of the proposal, and using present tax levies and assessed values as a measure, the effect would be to increase the tax levy upon land values inside of cities from a present total of approximately $92,000,000 to $215,000,000, or 133 per cent, as an average over the state. Outside of cities the tax levy on land values would be increased from approximately $39,000,000 to $74,000,000, or 91 per cent.

"Such drastic and unequal increases in tax levies upon land values would cause tax delinquencies beginning with the owners of unimproved or partly improved lands and pyramiding the levies and tax rates upon remaining property owners until the taxing machinery of the counties, cities, and districts broke down entirely or until property was confiscated for non-payment of taxes.

"Jeopardized" Security

"Destruction of the market values of privately owned land will jeopardize the security back of the loans or investments of people's savings made by banks, insurance companies, and other financial institutions. This proposal, therefore, jeopardizes the personal welfare of every individual and of every group in the state.

"To make land common property by confiscation for taxes is unjustifiable in view of the long-continued existence of the institution of private property."

NEW IN POLITICS BUT OLD HAND WITH MULES

WALNUT CREEK, Oct 31.—Phil Bancroft, the farmer who is making such a spectacular bid for election to the United States Senate, admits he is new to politics—but insists he is an old hand with mules.

A photographer for a national magazine was at the Bancroft farm here when inspiration struck him. He wanted a "stunt picture."

"You hold the mule's tail, and I'll take a picture," said the photographer.

"No," said Bancroft firmly. "YOU hold the mule's tail, and I'LL take the picture—and we'll use it at the inquest"

NEGLIGENT HOMICIDE CHARGE FILED

James Davidson, Salt Lake City truck driver, was killed near Hirschdale east of Truckee Sunday, when Walter Fieberg, 25, dam worker in his car, reportedly hit him. Fieberg is in the Nevada County jail charged with negligent homicide. The complaint against Fieberg was signed by Traffic Officer Arthur Barrick.

Davidson and companion truck driver were changing a tire on the truck when Fieberg struck Davidson. Fieberg stopped and rendered aid, but Davidson died a few minutes later. His body is enroute to his home in Salt Lake City.

The accident occurred at 1:30 Sunday morning. Fieberg claims he did not see a tail light or flares about the truck.

FORMER CITIZEN OF CAMPTONVILLE DEAD

CAMPTONVILLE, Oct. 31—Word was received here Sunday of the passing of James Yore at the home of his brother in Oakland.

"Jim" Yore, as he was always called was one of the pioneer residents of this section for most of his life. He lived at the Sleighville House, three miles north of this place on the old Mountain House road. He was a colorful figure at that place being a horseman and a teamster. He was one of the few survivors of that well known pioneer family.

LAST SAD RITES FOR MR. AND MRS. ALFRED FOUYER

A double funeral was held Sunday at two o'clock at the Holmes Funeral Home for the late Alfred C. Fouyer, and his wife, Jane Fouyer. who were tragically drowned in Scotts Flat dam when the boat from which they were fishing capsized. Both bodies were recovered near the wall of the dam.

Touching tribute was paid to this highly esteemed couple, who had spent practically all their lives in Nevada City, by Rev. Charles B. Washburn of Emmanuel Episcopal church.

Relatives from a distance attending the funeral were Mrs. Bell Barnes and Lloyd Williams, Sacramento, sister and nephew respectively of Mrs. Fouyer; George Williams and Mrs. Esther Comozzy, Ellensberg, Washington, brother and sister of Mrs. Williams.

Mr. Fouyer was an ex-Spanish American War veteran and the Sacramento Post of Spanish American War veterans conducted graveside services which were impressive. Reville was sounded and a firing squad fired a salute.

Pall bearers at the double service were, John Pascoe, Joe Glennon, Robert Steger, Sr., Orrin Thompkins, Charles Leiter, Stephen Roberts.

LITTLE CHANCE OF RAIN NOV. 8

Chances of rainy weather in Northern California on the date of the general election Nov. 8 are only one in five, and for Southern California one in ten, according to weather bureau records covering the past 67 years. The records were checked by the U. S. Weather Bureau of San Francisco at the request of Senator Sanborn Young, chairman of California Committee for Peace in Employment Relations, who said he was particularly interested as to the possibility of a heavy rainfall in the rural districts on election day.

"It is gratifying to learn from Major E. H. Bowie, meteorologist in charge of the weather bureau that rains exceeding a quarter of an inch have occurred in San Francisco only five times on November 8 in the last 67 years, that only fourteen times in that period has a measurable amount fallen on this date, and that the same ratio may be applied to most rural districts in the northern part of the state. If the weather runs true to form, therefore, we expect a record vote, especially among farmers. This bodes well for a tremendous "Yes" vote, on state Proposition No. 1, the labor regulatory act, because by every indication the farm vote throughout the state will be practically unanimous for this law to substitute peace for violence in labor relations."

EIGHTH GRADE WINS P.T.A. PRIZE

Many subjects of general interest were discussed at the meeting of the Nevada City Elementary Parent Teacher association on Friday. This meeting marked the close of the membership drive, with the eighth grade winning the party given to the class bringing in the most members.

Dr. B. W. Hummelt gave an interesting and educational talk. Mrs. Libbey's pupils sang three safety songs and Mrs. DeWitt Nelson explained some of the amendments appearing on the November ballot.

The next meeting of the association will be on Friday, November 18.

The prize for gaining the most members was awarded to the Eighth grade, which enrolled 32 members. Total enrollment of new members was 167. The prize for the Eighth graders will be a costume party this evening. The association thanked Mr. Klee vice principal, for his splendid cooperation.

Charles Davis returned from a short vacation in the bay cities. He will return to Berkeley about the first of the year to take up special work.

MANY DEMOCRATS BACK MERRIAM AND FRANKLIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—Added impetus was given the campaign of Governor Frank F. Merriam and Dr. Walter Scott Franklin last night with the formation of the Democratic Merriam-Franklin Club of San Francisco.

Phil J. Fay, civic leader and business man, was elected chairman and Miss Cecile M. Sorbier secretary.

Plans were effected for radio addresses and district organization.

The formation of a local Democratic club pledged to support Governor Merriam and Dr. Franklin is in line with a movement away from Olson and Patterson that has swept with amazing swiftness through California. In the van is Senator James B. Holohan of Santa Cruz, former United States Marshal during the administration of President Woodrow Wilson and former Warden of San Quentin.

"Four years ago," said Mr. Fay, "California faced a situation identical to the one it faces today. The democratic party of this state found that its nominees were not real Democrats, but men who were pure political opportunists, espousing unsound and unworkable theories of government. Many of us thought then that the Democratic nominees of 1934 were sincere, if misguided theorists.

"Today, however, we find ourselves faced with a more dangerous situation, which, were it to succeed would threaten the very foundations of our institutions. The Democratic nominees of this year are in my judgment, not only misguided but insincere as well. The enthusiasm of this meeting tonight is but another evidence to me that a fusion of our right thinking citizens, who put the future welfare of California before party regularity, will elect Governor Merriam and Dr. Franklin this year, as they defeated the Sinclair forces in 1934. California has been notable for its independence in disregarding party labels when issues of paramount concern are before the electorate."

Lewis F. Byington, lawyer, long time Democrat, and President of the Public Utilities Commission, in addressing the meeting said: "We think that the considerations of good government transcends in importance those of party regularity. My obligations as a Democrat will not permit me to support anyone who is not a good American and free of suspicion. We know the sound principles underlying the last administration of Governor Merriam. His refusal to embrace the crack pot issues to catch votes and to delude California's senior citizens, has won him the esteem of all self-respecting voters. I shall support Merriam and Franklin."

Timothy A. Reardon, veteran Democratic leader, said: "As a youth I learned the precepts of good government and political sincerity at the hands of a great and a real Democrat, the late United States Senator James D. Phelan. He believed with Grover Cleveland that 'public office is a public trust,' and that any candidate for public office, great or small, who espoused an unsound cause as a vote-catching snare, was not entitled to the support of self-respecting citizens. Were Senator Phelan alive today, he would be found endorsing the re-election of Governor Merriam and good government," Mr. Reardon said.

Among the life long Democrats who attended the meeting and joined in enthusiastically endorsing the Merriam-Franklin ticket were the following: Lewis F Byington, president, Public Utilities Commission; Philip J Fay, businessman; Henry E. Munroe, attorney, delegate to the 1932 Chicago Convention that nominated Roosevelt; Andrew F. Burke, attorney; Joseph M. Cumming, civic leader; Dr. F. J. S. Conlan; James P. Sweeney, civic leader; Harry R. Willier, businessman; C. H. (Bert) Sooey, attorney; James F. Brennan, attorney; Wm. B. Acton, attorney; Miss Cecile M. Sorbier, civic leader and club woman; Mrs. Frank C. Mollett, clubwoman; Timothy A. Reardon, veteran labor leader; John C. Quinlan, attorney; Dave E. Cohn, businessman; Mrs. Rita Cohn, housewife; Davir F. Supple, leader in busineses and fraternal circles; Dr. F. Justin McCarthy; John James B. Holohan; Democratic State Senator of Santa Cruz; and nationally famous penologist; Hon. Joseph F. Sheehan, Democratic member of 1937 State Assembly, and a leading business man of Mission District; Phil Noonan, realtor; Ramsey Moran, lawyer and World War veteran, and George Gillin, insurance broker and past president, South of Market boys.

CAMPTONVILLE, Oct. 31.—Funeral services for the late Mrs. Myrtle Klenzendorf were held Thursday afternoon at the local Masonic hall with a very large attendance of relatives and friends.

SUFFERS INJURY

Lloyd A. Hiscox, local postal employee, has been off duty since last Friday with an injured wrist. About ten days ago he picked up a parcel that had a copper wire wrapped about it and which had broken in transit. He did not notice the wire and as the parcel was top heavy it slipped the wire hooking into an artery in his wrist. After about three days blood poisoning developed and he was compelled to quit work. He is still under the doctors care.

SCHOOL CHORALS

The high school choruses have been doing some splendid work. They have completed an A Capella song "Cousin Jettidiah" and are working on another "Vanka and Tanka". They are also singing that beautiful old piece "The Lost Chord". Mrs. Libbey is very pleased with them. They sing "Here's to Nevada High School" in parts; they are also singing college songs and popular music. Choral music is one of the more recent courses at Nevada high school and is a very popular course.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Coughlan of Nevada Street had as week end guests Frank Sullivan and Jim Fitzgerald of San Francisco.

Upside Downey

Sheridan Downey's advocacy of the "Ham and Eggs" plan has cost him the support of his "home town newspaper" —the Sacramento Bee.

Downey, who is opposing Philip Bancroft, fighting farmer of Walnut Creek in the Senatorial race in the November election, was an attorney in Sacramento for many years. Editorially, the Bee has declared:

"If Downey really believes the ham and eggs plan is 'sound and economical' rather than a 'financial monstrosity', then he is a subject for a mental specialist and most decidedly not a likely prospect to represent California in the United States Senate."

The editorial cited Downey's support of Upton Sinclair's "EPIC" platform four years ago, and then reviewed Sinclair's analysis of the "$30 Every Thursday" plan in a recent national magazine.

"When Sinclair gets through the thirty warrants a week scheme bears a remarkable likeness to Humpty Dumpty," the editorial stated. "And he warns any and all who followed him four years ago against being deluded into the idea that any such plan, even if put into effect, would benefit anyone temporarily or permanently.

"But what of Sheridan Downey? He continues to reiteraate his belief in this mythical pot of gold at the end of a rainbow of economic delusion. He still insists that it constitutes a highway to prosperity, not a bog filled with fatal quicksand."

Title of the editorial was: "Even Sinclair Rejects Ham and Eggs Scheme."

Vote "Yes" On No. 7

Californians have been urged by the State Chamber of Commerce and other state-wide organizations to vote "yes" on Proposition 7.

This proposition, lacking the direct appeal of some of the other ballot measures, faces possible defeat unless public attention is drawn to it. This measure deserves the support of all taxpayers because it is designed to promote a more efficient and economical relief administration.

At the present time there are a number of relief agencies attempting to do the same work. Their functions are overlapping. Their efficiency is not what it could be if they were working under one directing power.

The legislature recognized this some time ago and attempted to rectify the situation by legislation. It was ruled that the State Relief Administration had been written into the constitution and that the legislature was without power to act unless given that power by the people.

Proposition 7 merely gives the legislature the right to set up a business-like administration of relief in Californa.

When it is considered that more than $48.000.000 will have been expended by California for state relief in the biennum which ends July 1, 1939, it can readily be seen how necessary this contemplated change is.

This newspaper has confidence that the combined efforts of the state-wide organizations will be acceptable by the legislature and that by approving No. 7 we may have more efficient and economical relief administration in California.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By JEAN MARTZ

Last Friday in assembly, Miss Baggley, who teaches the commercial subjects, explained the way that the school finances are taken care of. She opened the big book and showed how all the money that comes into the school funds is entered into the proper places by June Hawke, who is student body treasurer. The books are very neat and a record is kept of all money collected and spent, so the student may see the school expenditures at any time.

NOON DANCE

The students of Nevada City high school held their first "noon dance" of the year on Friday. The music was supplied by recordings played with the new amplifier. The students danced in the upper hall as it has an excellent floor and is large enough. All the students enjoyed a good time, and are looking forward to more dances in the future.

GIRLS BASEBALL

The Flat Foot Floogies were again defeated by the Swinks on Friday night. This was the fourth victory with an overwlehming score for the Swinks. There have been enough girls turn out for two complete teams as the girls get points toward their school letters. Only one more game will be played this fall. The score Friday was 21.2.

BASKETBALL FOR GIRLS

The light weight girls' basket ball team has started practice. On Monday night they will choose captains and divide into three teams. This is the second year that the girls have been able to play basketball and it is one of the most popular sports at school. The girls A team will not start playing until late.

Mrs. Howard Burr left Sunday for San Jose and San Francisco where she will spend this week visiting relatives and friends.

THIS AND THAT

By ROY GRIFFITHS DEETER

WE FIND OURSELVES BEING PAMPERED. Gosh, we were very irate when we found we had to take a couple of days off and go to bed with flu, especially when we had so many things to do. But it is an ill wind—we had a grand rest, but most exciting of all were the gorgeous flowers we received. Honest, we feel positively guilty. We should have had something spectacular, like elephantitus, or at the very least a baby—but failing this, we really are oozing with gratitude for the thoughtfulness of our friends, and we know we would never have recovered so rapidly had it NOT been for the flowers. One just CAN'T stay in bed when the house is a bower of blossoms—being first cousin to Ferdinand the Bull, we had to get up and sit around and smell all the pretty flowers.

BUST OUR BUTTONS, if the Chamber of Commerce of Galveston, Texas, didn't crown a hay fever queen, really and no foolin'. It seems to us sort of extreme to say the least, maybe we could drum ourselves up a little excitement by crowning a Poison Oak Queen. This time of the year poison oak leaves turn a truly beeeautiful color, at least we could sit home on rainy days with something definite to do, and if it comes down to a choice, we believe we'd rather scratch than sneeze, its less fatiguing.

DO YOU LADIES really like to go to a show and weep and weep until you are practically having a mid-autumn swim in your own tears? Well, then by ALL means see Marie Antoinette, with Norma Shearer. We never saw such gorgeous costuming and sets, and the cast is excellent, but sniff snif,f, it is just one tragic episode after another, the poor thing, sniff, sniff, hardly ever had a sniff, happy moment, and in the last scene of all prepare yourselves to break out into loud SOBS—the story follows history with JUST enough accuracy to be vaguely near the truth, but it is all pretty well sugar coated. Tyrone Power does a simply supeer, super-erious young lover, and a name that is fairly new, at least to us, is Robert Morley who does the role of the very good natured and stupid Louis absolutely magnificently. We suspect from his accent and diction that he comes from the London stage, but even if he came from Timbuctoo he would still be marvelous despite his lack of looks. He is very much of the Charles Laughton type, and we would not be surprised if he were being shoved into the Hollywood shoes that that grand actor seems to have no further use for at all. At any rate see the gentleman, and we think you will have to admit he is really remarkable. We have not been so impressed with any one since we first clapped eyes upon the lovely Zorina and burst out all of a rave, and it would seem we were not the only one. It is a long hop from Zorina to Morley, but keep your eye on both of them—the one is as good as the other, in their own ways.

Well, we think we will don our hip boots and wander out into this large expanse of moist matter the weather man seems to have sliced off for us these last few days, and so with this we say, cheerio, everybody.

Last Call For Your Vote

Since September, we have been appealing to you, the voters, to defeat proposition 20, the single tax, at the November 8th election.

We have told you of its many evils. To refresh your memory, here is what it threatens to do:

Close Schools
Take Homes
End Relief
Panic Business
Increase Prices
Lower Wages
Add Unemployment
Endanger Savings
Halt Government

We can make these statements for history of past attempts to make land carry the entire burden has resulted in all these things happening.

Don't be misled by the sales tax repeal disguise of this measure. It is not a sales tax repeal initiative alone for a single tax . . . the most destructive tax ever devised . . . would be substituted. You don't want that.

REPUBLICAN CHM. JOGS MEMORY OF OLSON AGAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—Bradford M. Melvin, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, awaited today Richard Olson's answer to his question whether he had not ovelooked an item of $10,000 said to have been contributed to his father's primary campaign by Harry Bridges' Warehousemens Union. Melvin recalled that Olson had neglected to list $7200 received from Bail Bond Broker Pete McDonough and inquired if the failure to report the CIO union donation was not due to a similar oversight.

"We may have some other matters with which to refresh his memory before this campaign is over," Melvin added significantly.

"Possibly he 'doth protest too much,' said Melvin. "Senator Olson listed total expenditures of $103,000 in the primary That seemed a rather large expenditure from one who represents himself to be the poor man's candidate. Then the McDonough contributions bobbed up to Mr. Olson's embarrassment.

"Now, let me ask Mr. Richard Olson if he has not also overlooked the $10,000 contribution which I have on unquestioned authority, was contributed by the Warehousemen's Union."

U. C. STUDENTS ALERT TO HEALTH NEEDS

BERKELEY, Oct. 31,—So health conscious has the student body of the University of California become that the number of student dispensary visits to the Cowell Memorial Hospital on the campus in the last eleven days of August increased by 51 per cent over the similar period in 1937, and the increase was maintained through September and October to date, although at a somewhat lower figure. This is reported by Dr. William G. Donald, the university physician, who states that the increase was 'astounding" and proved that the students generally are keenly alert to their health needs.

The sharp increase in dispensary calls is by no means accounted for by the increase in registration, Dr. Donald said, but by the desire of the students to keep themselves fit and the fine cooperation of the faculty in reporting classroom failures which might be attributed to major or minor ailments.

In a recent report to the American College of Surgeons, the hospital reported 2,140 patients treated in its clinical departments and 12,087 in its out-patient department during the fiscal year June 30, 1937, to July 1, 1938, with no deaths within the hospital itself. The hospital pays particular attention to preventive procedures, and as all registered students are subject to examination, it has been able to make a notable record in this respect.

The hospital now watches over the health of a student population of more than 16,000.

Shull, shown above, has won 59 prizes worth $3,500 in the last five years and is paying his school and living expenses out of his winnings. HE'S IMPORTANT!

"Sun Tan," riding horse once owned by the late Arthur (Dutch Schultz) Flegenheimer, New York racket king, felt pretty important when his name was mentioned during the trial of James J. JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder about men and birds—
Of course they're multitudinous,
And some are commonplace and plain
And others pulchritudinous;
I wish we understood them all,
The good ones and the glad ones,
The wise and foolish, wild and tame,
The mischevious and bad ones.

I wonder why we are so dull of comprehension—so dimly conscious of very ordinary facts concerning men and birds: to be specific, why do we so often fail to recognize the pure and lofty motives of an ambitious compatriot—his unblemished nobility of mind and character, his integrity of purpose, the wide scope of his ardent humanitarianism, the burning zeal with which he yearns to serve—constituents, to minister to their needs and lead them triumphantly into a land flowing with milk and honey? Why are we blind to the amazing attributes of such a man until he becomes a candidate for public office and is forced to tell of them himself?

The birds? Very frequently our feathered friends are denied the kind and merciful consideration which is their due: entire species are accused of mischevious misdeeds real or imaginary, condemned and summarily executed despite the earnest protests of bird lovers, ornithologists and other students of bird life. As the birds are destroyed, the insects come into their own. No longer harassed by their natural enemies, they multiply and replenish the land; crops are destroyed, orchards and forests ravaged as by the plagues of old; and when one of these regrettable calamities falls upon us, we naively classify it as an "act of God."

I believe it was Solomon who advised the world at large to "get wisdom," and seemingly that was a very good suggestion. Certainly increased understanding of men and birds would bring about marked changes in human behavior and wouldn't it be thrilling to know more than we do know? There are many open doors through which we might pass in quest for wisdom and with practice, we might even learn to peer through some of the so-called blank walls which now confront us.

All this reminds me that the miracle has taken place once again: promptly upon the twenty third day of October 1938, the swallows of Mission San Juan Capistrano winged their flight to summer climes afar, and this has been an annual event for one hundred and sixty two consecutive years. The usual beautiful and simple ceremonies were conducted at the Mission, old bells rang out, Ramon and the children chanted the farewell songs, el Padre told the legend of the swallows, curious throngs came to see and wonder, but to the question, "what is the explanation?" the visiting ornithologists, Ramon and the Mission Father, answered respectively, "I don't know —It is a miracle—and, It is God."

I wonder if the influence of Saint Francis de Assissi holds sway in the quaint old town of Capistrano; something of the wisdom and and understanding of—

One who in the ages olden,
Loved the happy fleet winged birds,
Calmed their fears and wooed them gently
With the magic of his words.
